The Bank of England authorities regard this tendency toward a train of capital to foreign countries with alarm, and to check it, increased the rates of interest.

The bank, by simply making money dear in England, can not only draw to that country specie from abroad, but can also check its outflow. England, as the creditor nation of the world, virtually controls all foreign alloney markets, and can render money plenty or scarce every where. The policy of the Bank, of England ex The policy of the Bank of England exercises a marked influence upon our New York markets, Gold is dearer for one thing, because there is a greater demand for it for shipment against balances. It is the same in nearly all the foreign money markets. As for the see-saw course of the Bank of England, that is a result of the absurd law which requires it to take in a sovereign in gold for every pound note that goes. This produces an artificial and arbitrary scarcity of money that frequently proves ruinous to business interests. Congress passed a bill at the late ses sion under w brave name of "A Bill to Preserve the Public Credit," The decline of our bonds abroad and the upward movement of gold at home, says the Boston Herald, show its value. isiana. This charter authorizes it capital stock of five hundred throusand dollars, with the privilege of extension to one militon. That the public may know the exact object of the Company, the third article of the charter is given entire as follows:

"The object of this Company is to construct or otherwise to procure and maintain one or more steamboats or other vessels, to run on and navigate the Mississippi river, or as rebutaries, for the purpose of carrying freight, mails and passengers; to construct docks wharves, buildings and such other construct docks wharves, buildings and such other constructions as may be necessary to the building and repairing of vessels, and generally to exercise such inclidental powers and privileges as are hereby or may be conferred on them for the purposes aformaid.

The Company propose, under the provisions of this charter to construct a line of steamers for an between the different ports on the Mississippi river and its tributaries. They will make better time, and be in all respects once safe than any description of banks ever blaced upon our waters. Divided into distinct compartments, if disaster, whether by the or smags, shall happen to one, the boat is not endangered. In case of fire, apparatus or turning steam upon it will be provided, and it is demonstrated that steam is the most facility extinguisher of fire. In case one onpartment is broken through by contact ith sings, and fills with water, the others remain endangered, and the boat cannot stilk, a pumps, provided for such an emergence, in the in instant operation. he struggle of the people of the Mississippi valley.

Nearly three hundred thousand dollars in money and work has already been subscribed to the capital stock of the Company. The consistant Legislature has passed a hill subscribing one hundred thousand dollars of stock to the Company. An additional sum of that amount with, without a doubt, be subscribed by the same body. The Company have resolved to take lands for stock, and this is the feature to which they desire to call the attention of owners of real estate. In the Southern States, on account of the disorganized condition of labor, lands are an incimized condition of labor, lands are an incimizate. Vast fracts that yield no revenue to the proprietors, may exorbitant laxes, and thus cripple their only productive resources. This Company propose to take these lands at a fair valuation and issue to the owners their stock in then. If lands shall enhance in value, so will the stock enhance in value, and thus the land proprietor carry in his pocket the equivalent of his lands, to be converted into money or property without delay. The success of this great enterprise is beyond question. The stockholder, in addition to the search of the enhanced value of his lands, to the lands of the enhanced value of his lands.

This may be fone by certificates of reliable, disinterested persons residing in the neighborhood. The secont actual value of the land may be roved in the same manner. The party effecting lands must state in his proposition the lowest figures he will take. The tompany will not give exorbitant prices.
